

FRIENDS OF VIA

Once again the students of the Czech and Slovak Language School of Pittsburgh (“Cesky a Slovensky Svet”) participated in a community activity that reminds us all of the importance of acting as “Dobro druzi” and lending a helping hand to others. This year, students and helper parents conducted a spring clean up around the Wilkins Community Center where Saturday morning classes are held, as well as other events, that bring the Pittsburgh Czech and Slovak community together during the year.

This year’s clean up included a landscaping project and flower planting to add to the neighborhood’s springtime beauty. Both children and parents enjoyed bringing the spirit of “Dobro druzi” to one Pittsburgh community.
